WON FOR THIRD TIME WON EXCITING GAME

Johns Hopkins Defeated Vir- Cornell Defeated Princeton ginia University in Athletics.

Special Dispatch to The Star. BALTIMORE, Md., May 13 .- The Johns-Hopkins University Athletics did themselves proud this afternoon at the Maryland oval, where, in their third annual dual field ginia, they carried off the honors of the day by a score of 58 points to 46. In the past two meetings the local university men won by large margins. The meet showed plainly the remarkable strides that Virginia has made in track athletics during the past two

In the track events the local 'vascity showed its superfority over the Virginians and had things most their own way, with the exception of the quarter-mile race. The southerners did most of their work in the

The most exciting events of the meet were the mile run and the 120-yard high hurdles. In the mile run Griffith, who made it in the remarkably good time of 4 minutes 49 secing absent, the time will not be allowed to count as a record. The 120 hurdles resulted in a dead heat and was run over again, Hill just winning by a small margin.

YALE DEFEATS PRINCETON. Track Meet by Representatives of the Two Institutions.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 13.-Princeton was easily defeated by Yale this afternoon in a dual track meet by the score of 791/2 to 24%. Capt. Williams, ex-champion intercollegiate miler, proved no match for Hill of Yale, who finished several rods in the lead by a remarkable sprint, doing the mile in 4 minutes 35 4-5 seconds.

S. Rulon-Miller, Princeton's crack shortdistance man, failed to secure a place in the 220-yard dash. The best exhibition of the meet was by Simons of Princeton, who made a broad jump of 22 feet 11½ inches, breaking the records of both universities. The two miles was done in splendid time by Hale of Yaie, who set the pace for the entire race and finished ahead of Chapin in 9 minutes 49 3-5 seconds.

Defeat of Commissioners' Team in Baltimore. Special Dispatch to The Star.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 13.-The Baltimore and Ohio team won easily from the Commissioners' team of Washington today by 9 to 1. Pitcher Matthews of the Baltimore and Ohio proved the stumbling block for the visitors. The Washingtonians saved themselves from a shut-out by tallying in the first inning, when Hooks scored Beall from first on his double to left field. Titus, late of Georgetown, twirled for the visitors until the last inning. The Commissioners played a fair fielding game, but their work was erratic. Venable at short was the star of the visitors. His stop of Winslow's drive and his sensational catch of Coggins' apparently safe hit in the seventh inning brought the spectators to their feet.

ROCKVILLE DEFEATED.

Interesting Contest Won by Dumbarton Athletic Club.

In an interesting contest at the Rockville fair grounds yesterday afternoon the Dumbarton Athletic Club base ball team of this city administered defeat to the local aggregation by the score of 9 to 8. It was the first game of the season for the Washington team, several of the players not even having had any practice, and in view of this their performance was decidedly clever and gave the impression that the aggrega-tion will develop into an unusually strong one. The game was hotly contested from start to finish and was marked by several pretty plays, the most noticeable of which was a catch in left field by Kelchner of Rockville and a double play by R. Brower, Nicholls and Carr of the same team. Miller and Nicholson of the visitors also pulled off a clever double play. The largest crowd of the season was on hand, including a number of ladies. Won by St. Joseph's. St. Joseph's broke into the won column the Capital City League. Considering the positions occupied by the contesting teams, a fair crowd was present.

Dalrymple was on the slab for the winners, and held the other team safe at all stages, although his control was not good. He was kind enough to pass to first those of his opponents who were unable to secure hits, often raising false hopes of a rally in the hearts of Carroll's rooters. Good fielding at the critical periods, however, ren-dered his generosity harmless. Hanway was not so fortunate, his gifts being costly, as timely hits usually followed. With the score 5 to 3, in the fifth inning, Hanway lost heart, or perhaps the strength of his salary wing gave out, for he began to merely lob the ball over the plate. St. Joseph took advantage of this lapse to the extent of four runs in the last two innings, secured by five hits, one a triple by Curtain and another good for four bags

Although fielding features were few and far between. Drury must be mentioned for his pretty pickup and throw of Dalrymple's hard smash. In the fourth a peculiar play was pulled off. Clark reached first on balls, and had second base pilfered when for some unknown reason he started to return to the initial sack. Then began the task of running him down, the victim being finally tagged by Drury, every other infielder get-ting credit for an assist. St. Joseph's secured runs in every inning but the fourth, timely hits occurring when men were on bases. Carroll could only connect with the home plate in the second and third, scoring two runs in the latter inning.

GORDON'S FINE PLAYING.

Won the Interscholastic Tennis Tournament at Princeton.

Special Dispatch to The Star. PRINCETON, N. J., May 13.-Spencer Gordon of the Western High School at Washington, D.C., won the thirteenth annual interscholastic tennis tournament here today by remarkable playing in the finals. Seven schools sent representatives, as follows: Newark Academy, St. Paul, Lawrenceville, Princeton Prep, Rand Collegiate School, St. Paul's of Garden City and the Wetern High School of Washington.

The Prep boys handled themselves well, and several of the preliminary matches were very close, especially that between Hewitt and Sands. In the third set Hewitt won out 8-6, and became runner up in the finals, for which he received the second loving cup. The great surprise of the tournament was the easy manner in which Gordon defeated Partridge, who holds the title of Yale in-terscholastic champion. The final match was very exciting, but neither player could put up his best game owing to exhaustion, as each had gone through three previous matches. By good head work Gordon yielded the second set, making the score one-all, and saved himself for the last, in which he showed up to advantage. Wheaton Defeated Takoma.

AMATEUR BASE BALL TOO STRONG FOR NAVY NEXT WEEK'S RACING

Georgetown Wins Exciting

Game at Annapolis.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

ANNAPOLIS, May 13.-The appearance of the ball team from Georgetown University here today proved the stellar card of the year, for the crowd that saw the visitors defeat the Middies was the largest and most distinguished that has ever gathered on "Naval Field" to witness an athletic contest. The visitors came in trains from Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, while the people of Annapolis, decked out in their best, were present in great numbers, and hence when the game began the scene was most inspiring. The entire body of midshipmen were given the post of honor behind first base, and as they numbered over 600 strong, their rooting and yelling was one of the events of the day. yelling was one of the events of the day. The navy team has been playing strong ball this year, better by far than any team that has represented Uncle Sam's Jack tars since base ball was started. This fact led many of them to suppose that they would beat out the collegians from Georgetown. Many of them tonight are without cigarette and soda water money in consequence of their rash plunging. It was a good game with some brilliant work, errors and other attributes that go to make up the great sport, and the vast crowd was convinced that the better team won on its

Morgan's Good Work.

There were many fine plays, but the best work was that of Capt. Morgan of Georgetown, whose pick-ups and throws to first base were all made on hard chances, the kind that usually go for hits. His one little error was made on a hard chance and was excusable. He also made a record, as his home run hit was the longest ever seen on Naval Academy grounds, and never would have been stopped if it had struck the path on navy row. Morgan was at home base before the ball was recovered. Drennan was wild and unsteady and not up to his usual standard. Perhaps the rooting was too strong for the youngster, for he gave three free trips and gave three batsmen blows below water that allowed them free voyages to first base. He had n the ninth, as he sent Symington to first on balls, and then politely drove the nine-inch shot into Needham's ribs. With the three next men up. Navy's best batsmen at that, the Georgetowners were sweating, but a masterly play by Hub Hart, a quick throw catching Needham napping at first, brought the youngster back in form, eased the tension, and as the two next batsmen proved easy, they won the hardest game of the year.

Navy Played Faultlessly.

The Navy played a faultless game. The work of Capt. Spofford, who was formerly a high school boy of Washington, was giltedged. Needham pitched a masterly game and had the best batsmen of the Blue and Gray guessing, and outside of that fatal first inning, pitched a game that would win nine out of every ten played.

There were continual growls from both sides over the decisions of Umpire Snyder, and once while Georgetown was disputing a play, the umpire deciding Martell had taken his foot off the base too soon, they lost a run, for Goldwalte ran home during the squabble. In justice to the umpire it should be said that in this case he was right, as Martell did remove his foot before catching the hall fore catching the ball.

Story of the Game.

The battle royal began in the first inning, Georgetown starting the matinee by scoryesterday at the Collseum grounds, and ing four times. Scheller proved a good tied the Aloysius club for fourth place in waiter and was rewarded by going to first walter and was rewarded by going to first. Keane started the navy yelling by fanning out, but Capt. Morgan quieted them by sending his home run to left, Scheller trot-ting in ahead of him. Hart sent one to left center, and Martell dropped one just back of second, Hart moving up one sack. White then tuned the navy rooters up again by striking out, but Burns sent a single to right field, on which Hart scored, Martell going up to third. Burns stole second and Martell romped home on the attempt to throw Burns out. Smith ended the navy's agony by going out on a fly to Gill. Goldwaite opened the first for the navy by driving a hot one into Scheller and reached first, being credited with a hit. Spofford then made another dash at Scheller, who fumbled and both runners Scheller, who fumbled and both runners were safe. Drennan gave Thebauld a free trip, filling the bases. McWhorter went out on a fly to Burns, Goldwaite scoring. Gill hit a low one to left field that Keane caught in fine style, and quickly throwing to second caught Spofford, thereby effecting a double play. Again in the second Drennan sent Stiles to first on balls. Thibault sent a fine one to left field for a single. Symington attempted to bunt, but Drennan got it and cut off Stiles at third. Drennan also got Needham's small hit and threw him out at first. Goldwaite was pierced by one of Drennan's inshoots and walked, filling the sacks. Spofford beat out an infield hit, Thibault scoring, but the inning closed by White catching Thebauld's fly to deep right.

In the third Hart strung one out to left for a single, and then stole second in good style. Martell's high foul fly was taken by White sent one out to the right garden for a single, Hart scoring on the hit. Burns went out to Spofford, and Smith retired on strikes.

Symington, the first to face Drennan in the fourth, beat out an infield hit, the second one in the same place for the game, as Smith, Georgetown's shortstop, was playing too deep. Needham singled to right. Drennan caught Needham napping and Symington ran to third. Martell held the ball too long, and both runners were safe at second and third. Goldwaite hit a high fly to Burns and went out, but Symington scored. Smith captured Spofford's fly, and, throwing to second, doubled up

Every one of the navy rooters was up in the "seventh" rooting and whooping things up lively. Needham was finely fielded out from Smith to Martell. Goldwaite sent a safe one to center for a single. Morgan threw Spofford out at first, Goldwaite going up to second. Thebauld's hit to Smith was fielded finely, but Martell left first base too quickly, Goldwalte scoring during the dis-pute over the decision. McWhorter's foul fly was captured by Martell. This ended the run getting. Score: GEORGETOWN. AB. R. 1B. PO. A. E.

WHAT WILL BE THE EVENTS ON THE DIFFERENT TRACKS.

With a Saturday card that will have for as features the eighth running of the Nation Stallion stakes, for two-year olds, the Ladies' stakes for three-year-old fillies, and the International Steeplechase handicap. tne week at Belmont Park should be replete with brilliant sport from beginning to end. It is a particularly interesting looking program that Secretary Crickmore has arranged for the entire week, and, with a continuance of good weather, the sport should improve with each succeeding day.

That the National Stallion stakes will be productive of one of the sensational races of the year there can be little doubt. It is one of the richest of the prizes of the year for youngsters and all of the high-class colts and fillies in the big barns have been pointed for the mass which will be decided. pointed for the race, which will be dec ded over the five-furiong straight course. Originally there were 309 nominations for this added money, forfelts and starting fees will make the value of the race something over $15,000. With all the declarations in. there remain eligible to start seventy-five colts and eleven fillies, among which are August Belmont's Don Diego and Woolwich, Newton Bennington's First Water, Water-bok and Jerry Wernberg; W. C. Daly's Veronese, F. R. Hitchcock's Vender, James R. Keene's Capias, Kuroki, Oyama and Nogi; John E. Madden's Macumber, Bellsnicker and Comedienne; Sydney Paget's Jacobite, Fulbert and Waterwing; W. M. Scheftel's Prospero and R. T. Wilson, jr.'s, Beaufort and Calabogue.

The Ladies' stakes is for three-year-old misses, at a mile, and will this year be worth in the neighborhood of $7,500. It will probably see the season's debut of Sydney Paget's crack Goldfinch-Reclare filly, Tradition. Also named for the event and eligible to start are: Captain S. S. Brown's Wayward Lass, August Belmont's Duicibella, A. Featherstone's Lady Henrietta, the Chelsea stable's Flinders, Frederick Johnson's Schumalite, William Lakeland's Gold Ten, Pe Lorillard's Chrysitis, Andrew Miller's Coy Maid, the Oneck stable's Klamed-ha and Sydney Paget's Zeala.

Many of the best jumpers in training have been nominated for the international steeplechase handicap, which will be decided over the two-mile course. The 1st of eli-gibles includes the Bonnie Brook stable's Melbourne Eclipse, M. J. Cavanaugh's Fly-ing Buttress, J. W. Colt's Lavator, Arian and Sandhurst, Mr. Cotton's Gortnagallon, Thomas Hitchcock, jr.'s, Good and Plenty, last year's champion, and Black Hussar; F. Johnson's Bonfire, Mr. Major's Flying Virginian, G. Schwartz's Gascar, J. E. Widener's Coligny and Patagonian, and H. F. Williams' Candling. With such a galaxy of high-class performers scheduled to face the barrier in the various events the prospects certainly point to a brilliant afternoon's

Tomorrow's program will have for its fea-ture the second of the serial handicaps, the Claremont, at six and a half furlongs, for three-year-olds and upward, and as this event has $1,800 in added money a splendid field of sprinters should line up at the barrier. Among the eligibles are August Bel-mont's Blandy and Beldame; L. V. Bell's Glorifier, S. Deimel's Wotan, J. A. Drake's Ort Wells, the Goughacre stable's Spring and Preen. C. T. Henshall's Martinmas, D. C. Johnson's Roseben and Jacquin. J. R. Keene's Wild Mint and Israelite, W. Lakeland's Little Em, James McLaughlin's Pas-adena and Oxford, Sydney Paget's Ormonde's Right and Cairngorm, O. L. Richards' Race King, R. E. Watkins' Lady Amelia and Diamond, and R. T. Wilson, jr.'s, Gamara and Sparkling Star.

The Baychester, at a mile, for three-year-olds, which is set for Tuesday, has attracted a fine list of eligibles and should be pro-ductive of a brilliant contest, with plenty of opportunities for speculation. Named to fight it out for the purse are August Belmont's Blandy, the Albemarle stable's Santa Catalina and Bohemia, Jule Garson's Goldfieur, the Goughacre stable's Preen. C. T. Henshall's Sir Brillar, J. R. Keene's Blucher, Sinister and Regal, J. L. McGinnis' Inspiration, Sydney Paget's Cairngorm, Jonquil and Belle Strome, R. E. Watkins' Quadrille and R. T. Wilson's Allumeter and Sufferance.

August Belmont's Woolwich and Don Diego, Newton Bennington's First Water and Jerry Wernberg, W. C. Daly's Veronese, M. L. Hayman's Leonard Joe Hayman, F. R. Hitchcock's Tangle, James R. Keene's Capias and Mosquito, John E. Madden's Hooray, James McLaughlin's Kuro, O. L. Richards' Old Guard, H. P. Whitney's Ironsides, and a number of other voungeters O. L. Kichards' Old Guard, H. P. Whitney's Ironsides, and a number of other youngsters have been named to start in the Maiden, at five furlongs, for youngsters, which will be the stake feature of Wednesday's program. Wednesday's card also has a steeplechase down for decision, in which the jumpers are scheduled to go over the short course. scheduled to go over the short course.

Thursday's program will have the Pocantico stakes, for three-year-olds, at a mile and a sixteenth, as its fixture, and there is and a sixteenth, as its fixture, and there is enough class in the list of eligibles to make is hoped will realize better results. enough class in the list of eligibles to make the race worthy of note. The candidates include James R. Keene's Sinister, Von Tromp and Wild Mint, August Belmont's Blandy, P. J. Dwyer's Red Friar, Jule Garson's Goldfieur, C. T. BEATEN BY RESERVES.

A game full of interest from the very beginning was the kind that kept the rooters on Georgetown field yesterday afternoon ever ready to applaud and cheer. The How the Ponies Ran on Various cadets from the United States practice ship Chase of the revenue cutter service went flown in an honorable defeat before the hard-hitting Reserve team by the score of

The game teemed with interest through out, and although the score was not close toward the end it did not lessen the enthusiasm a bit. The whole cause of the victory lies in the fact that the Blue and Gray batters can hit the ball. They hit hard and often, and the hits seldom were wanting when needed. wanting when needed.

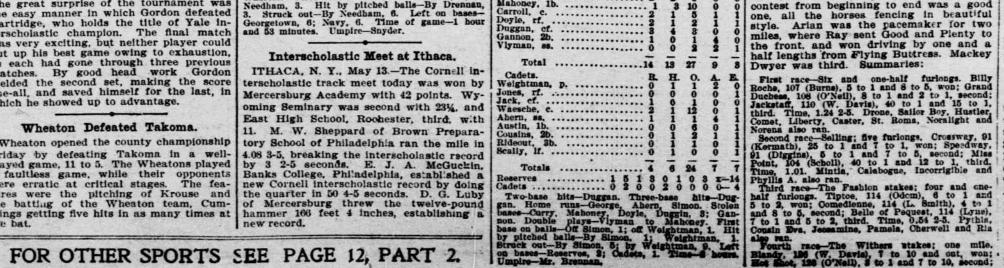

Duggan did best with his new "mush

a two-bagger and one good for three sacks.

Mahoney came next with three and Capt. Simon evened up on a single and a homer.

The Cadets, too, hit the ball and hit it hard, but usually the Reserve fielders were right there. Two or three times errors let in runs, but for the most part the runs were well earned.

Capt. Simon pitched for the Reserves, and Capt. Simon pitched for the Reserves, and his opponent was Weightman, a former high school player. They both pitched a high grade article of ball and it would be extremely difficult to say which had the better of it. They evened up on the passes, and what Weightman gained on his strikeouts Simon balanced by his holding of the batters down to so few hits.

Pigeon Racing Season.

FLEET HOMERS KEPT BY LOCAL BIRD FANCIERS.

Homing pigeons were first introduced into this country in the seventies, New York and vicinity being the early scene of the sport. From there it branched out first to Philadelphia, and thence all over the east, from Washington northward, and today there is hardly any section in the country which and several clubs were organized, but disbanded after a short existence. In 1890 a meeting was held at the home organizing a homing pigeon club, and in this way the Washington Federation was launched. By conservative management it has stood the test of time, improving with age. It has seen the rise and fall of many promising contemporaries, yet today it is the only regularly organized club in the city, and one of the oldest in the United

on caught the fever in the early eightles,

The first race of the new club was flown from Orange, Va., seventy-five miles dis-tant, on May 4, 1890, thirty-one birds competing. Gradually from year to year the competition became keener, and on May 29, 1901, 1,016 birds competed in a race from Chester, Pa., which is the largest individual club race ever held.

A southwest course was first used, but on account of only one bird having accom-plished the much-desired five-hundred-mile journey on the day of toss, the course was changed to south. This did not prove a decided improvement, as only thirty-three "day" birds homed. This year an inter-In 1896 the Washington Federation joined the Columbia Flying Club in forming the Washington district of the National Federation, the Capital City Club becoming a member in 1897, and since that time it has been a member of that national body. With forty-four members, it was the largest district in the year 1900. A year after joining the National Federation the primitive method of timing pigeons was discarded by the Halstead timing machine. For several years this new device caused much annoyance by its unsatisfactory workings, but during the past year not a single complaint was filed.

The influence of the Washington Federation has been felt throughout and its rec-ords recognized long before it became a member of the national body. It has always appreciated the importance of bringing the sport before the public, and has taken part in many national events. In 1893 it accepted the invitation of the and world's fair authorities in Chicago, and sult.

Happiness, flown by Mr. Lewis Turner, winning the $50 in gold. In the Hagerstown races, which were introduced five years ago, the Washington Federation has taken an active part, and all five of the cups are held by members of ex-members of the club.

In the return of lost birds the Washington Federation stands out pre-eminent. Washington is the Mecca of stray birds, and during the flying season there is no loft without its visitors. There is an unwritten law of the Washington Federation which requests its members to report such visitors, and annually a large number of valuable birds are restored to their rightful owners. though many good birds fell prey to the sociations were formed in other sections in the country.

Besides the regular schedule races, holiday contests are indulged in, and the Washington Federation has a national reputation of getting more pleasure out of the sport than any other club.

With the unusual attention bestowed upon the timing machines, with a decidedly better course and with the vast improvement of the birds, the prospects of the coming
